The brilliant sunshine on Saturday morning, June 7, was a welcome greeting to the day for the 22nd annual ArtsFest, held again on the beautiful grounds surrounding the La Plata Town Hall. Morning events began at 8:00 am with Yoga on the Lawn led by Anne Machetto. At noon, the public was welcomed to visit the 47 artists and exhibitor tents, enjoy the sights and sounds of 13 performing groups throughout the day, and indulge in the delicious offerings from 8 food vendors.

Our heartfelt thanks goes to Mayor Roy Hale, Town Manager Daniel Mears, Special Events Coordinator Colleen Wilson, and the Town of La Plata for hosting us again this year. Our sincere appreciation also goes to the Charles County Commissioners for proclaiming Saturday, June 7, as "ArtsFest Day in Charles County," and to Commissioner Vice President Reuben Collins and Commissioner Ken Robinson for presenting us with the County Proclamation in person during our opening ceremonies.

Thanks to all the artists and exhibitors, to the music and dance groups that entertained non-stop throughout the day, and to author and story teller Shirley Perez, who read from her book Big Nose. Thanks also goes to Lorina Harris who directed the children's art tent, and to the Southern Maryland Astronomical Society who set up day telescopes which allowed viewing of sunspots and even solar flares!

Most of all, our deepest gratitude goes to the ArtsFest 2014 Committee: Robert Rausch (Chair), Bill Adams, Cindy Johnson, and Diane Rausch, and to all the Board members and community volunteers who made our event another great success this year!

An estimated 2,500 men, women and children attended ArtsFest 2014. If you missed ArtsFest this year, take a look at the photos on pages 3 and 4, and plan to attend ArtsFest 2015 next year!

Throughout the day, tickets were sold for a chance at an outstanding gourmet gift basket, valued at $500. The proceeds go toward the scholarships that CCAA awards every year to graduating Charles County high school and college seniors who plan to continue their studies in the arts. This year's lucky winner of the gift basket was Roseanne Markham.

CCAA and Local News

CCAA at the Crain Memorial Welcome Center

May 3 - 11, 2014, was National Tourism Week, and the Charles County Arts Alliance was on hand at the Crain Memorial Welcome Center in Newburg to participate in this annual event. From May 6 - 8, CCAA President Robert Rausch and CCAA Office Manager Judy Crawford greeted well over 100 guests, from local residents to those traveling long distances, but all stopping at the Welcome Center for a rest, maps, or brochures on Maryland's attractions.

CCAA had the opportunity to impress many newcomers to Southern Maryland with the abundance of arts-related activities, especially ArtsFest and the upcoming Kris Kringle Christmas Market! Even though the majority of the visitors were "just passing through," they were very interested in returning for future events. We look forward to seeing them when they again visit Charles County, Maryland!

BookNuts Bookstore

Author Reception and Book Signing

Saturday, July 12, 11:00 am - 2:00pm

This month, BookNuts BookStore features five local authors working in a diverse range of genres:

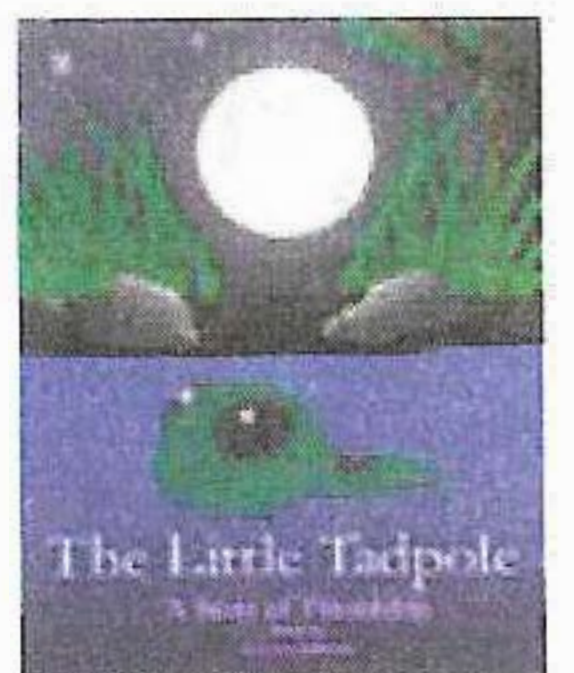

James Mascia, whose previous teen novels include The Poe Murders and New York Jungle Zombies: Invasion, has recently completed the fourth novel in the "High School Heroes" series. In Hero's Burden, the powers of one of the teenage superheroes suddenly stop working. Ordinary life is boring, and she quickly tires of her superhero friends protecting her, so she sets out to discover the reason for her "new normal."

Life Journeys Writers Club founder Yvonne Medley's Jubi Stone: Saved by the Vine tells the story of a young woman challenged by the generation gap between her and her parents and the temptations of life. Yvonne has published several other books, including Prison Plumb Line and God in Wingtip Shoes.

Patricia Harrington returns to BookNuts with a piece of supernatural fiction, Witchy Tales: Gail Warning. When four elderly witches (the unofficial neighborhood watch group) spot suspicious activity at a neighboring house, they get involved with trying to figure out what is going on. Using potions and spells, they discover the new neighbors are up to no good. Pat previously published a romance novel set along the Potomac, Hooked.

E. Louis Jefferson writes in several genres, but his recent children's book, The Little Tadpole, shows that being kind to each other and making friends starts at a young age and how rewarding friendship is. The story tells of a young tadpole who wasn't allowed to play with the older frogs in his pond because he was too young. He was terribly lonely because he had no friends. When he grew into a full grown frog, he remembered what that was like and how lonely it made him feel. He convinces all his new friends that just because they are older, everyone needs friends, especially the youngest members of their community.

Michael Kibler's Horses, Humans and Harmony takes a psychological approach to working with horses. Mr. Kibler trains horses in Southern Maryland, and respects the powerful bond between horses and humans.

BookNuts BookStore is located at 4459 Crain Highway, Unit 103, White Plains, MD. For more information, visit their website at www.BookNutsBookStore.com or call 301-836-6236.

Anyone interested in joining, please call 301-645-2864, or email mruss@ccplonline.org. The P.D. Brown Library is located at 50 Village Street, Waldorf, MD 20602.

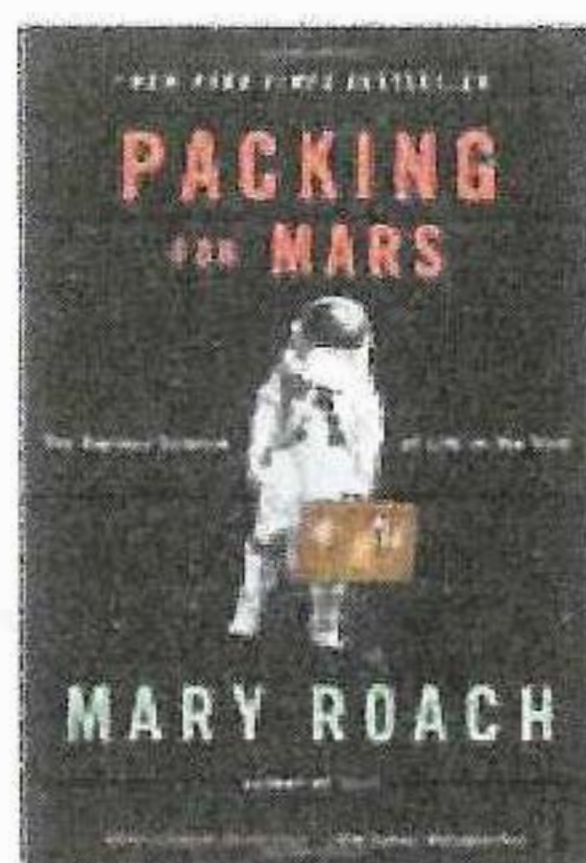

July 12: Self-Selected Fiction.

Here's your chance to discuss your favorite novel!

Waldorf West Summer Adult Book Club

Meets on Tuesdays, from 10:00 to 11:00 am. Pre-registration at www.ccplonline.org is required by the evening before the discussion. The Library is located at 10405 O'Donnell Place, Waldorf. For more information, call 301-645-1395.

July 15: Packing for Mars: The Curious Science of Life in the Void by Mary Roach. Space is a world devoid of the things we need to live and thrive: air, gravity, hot showers, fresh produce, privacy. Space exploration is in some ways an exploration of what it means to be human. How much can a person give up? What happens to you when you can't walk for a year? Is it possible for the human body to survive a bailout at 17,000 miles per hour? To answer these questions and more, space agencies set up all manner of quizzical and startlingly bizarre space simulations. As Mary Roach discovers, it's possible to preview space without ever leaving Earth. From the space shuttle training toilet to a crash test of NASA's new space capsule (cadaver filling in for astronaut), Roach takes us on a surreally entertaining trip into the science of life in space and space on Earth.

Writers of Color Book Club

A book club for all who enjoy reading books by authors of the African diaspora who write contemporary fiction, including urban fiction. The Club meets bi-monthly at the Waldorf West Library, 10405 O'Donnell Place, Waldorf, from 6:30 to 7:30 pm. Go to <http://www.ccplonline.org> and click on the calender to register for the next discussion. For more information, call Ashley Teagle or Deborah Erwin at 301-645-1395.

King Peggy July 22: King Peggy: An American Secretary, Her Royal Destiny, and the Inspiring Story of How She Changed an Village by Peggielene Bartels and Eleanor Herman.

The astonishing journey of American secretary, Peggielene Bartels, who suddenly finds herself king to a town of 7,000 people on Ghana's central coast, half a world away. Upon arriving for her crowning ceremony in beautiful Otua, she discovers the dire reality: there's no running water, no doctor, no high school, and many of the village elders are stealing the town's funds. Ultimately, a deeply traditional African town is uplifted by the ambitions of its decidedly modern female king, and Peggy is herself transformed, from an ordinary secretary to the heart and hope of her community.

Indian Head Senior Center Book Discussion Group meets on the fourth Wednesday of every month from 11:00 am - 12:00 pm. Contact Lena Cox at 301-375-7375 or email lcox@ccplonline.org for more information. The Senior Center is located at 100 Cornwallis Square, Indian Head, MD 20640.

July 23: Songs of Willow Frost by Jamie Ford. Set against the backdrop of Depression-era Seattle, Songs of Willow Frost is a powerful tale of two souls—a boy with dreams for his future and a woman escaping her haunted past—both seeking love, hope, and forgiveness.
